61		Rattletrap Car, Phyllis Root. Illustrated Jill Barton. Walker books.	Poppa, Junie, Jake and the baby want to go for a swim. Their old car keeps stopping on the way and they have many funny ways to fix it with things they have brought for the day.
62		Room on the Broom by Julia Donaldson. Illustrated Axel Scheffler. Macmillan children's books.	The witch and her cat need help from the other animals who all want to get on the broom. But is there enough room?
63		Rosie's Walk by Pat Hutchins. Random House Australia.	Rosie the hen goes for a walk but the fox is following her- an almost wordless book with lots of room for imagination.
64		Rumble in the Jungle by Giles Andreae and David Wojtowycz. Hachette Children's Books.	Come into the jungle for a noisy rhyming romp packed with favourite animals, from tigers to chimpanzees, brought to life with fun, vibrant artwork.
65		Sam's Bush Journey by Sally Morgan & Ezekiel Kwaymullina. Little Hare.	Sam doesn't like the outdoors and would be happy if it all disappeared. But when he goes to stay with his grandmother he learns that the outdoors has many things to see and find.
66		Slinky Malinki , (from Hairy Maclary series) Lynley Dodd. Puffin/Penguin Books.	Slinky Malinki is a very bad cat who will steal anything, from a clothes peg or a slipper to a string of sausages or a clock. A story told in witty and imaginative rhyme.
67		Some Dogs Do , by Jez Alborough. Walker Books.	On the way to school one day, Sid is so full of happiness that he starts to fly. But no one believes him. "Dogs don't fly," they say. Poor Sid is miserable, until his Dad lets him in on an amazing secret: some dogs do!
68		Sunshine by Jan Ormerod. Walker Books.	It s morning, and the first rays of sunlight shine into a little girls bedroom and wake her up. She gets out of bed and gets ready to start her day. A wordless book.
69		Ten Scared Fish by Ros Moriarty and Balarinji. Allen and Unwin.	Ten Scared Fish is an animal counting book with a difference. Following the river to the sea, the reader meets and counts the animals until finally ten little fish meet a big scary shark!
70		The Boy on the Bus by Penny Dale. Walker Books.	The boy on the bus drives round and round, round and round, but who wants to ride on his bus? Ducks. Pigs. A horse. Who else? A host of more noisy animal passengers! So jump on board the bus and get ready to join in and sing-along with this energetic nursery song. Ding-ding! Off we go!

Storytelling with a homemade puppet show (<http://www.letsplaykidsmusic.com/make-homemade-puppet-theatre/>) is such a creative and engaging activity for kids. It is wonderfully educational and even more fun when you have a song to go with the story. A puppet theatre gives children endless opportunity to let their imaginations go. It is fantastic for developing early language and literacy skills and will provide hours of constructive amusement.

This simple but absorbing activity is just what your child needs to develop their skills for learning. Younger children will improvise and make up their own stories while older children can even get involved with writing full scripts and putting on little plays. Click here for the tutorial on how to make our Storytelling Puppet Theatre (<http://www.letsplaykidsmusic.com/make-homemade-puppet-theatre/>).

Storytelling puppets : Goldilocks and the Three Bears

Goldilocks and the Three Bears is an excellent storytelling song to start with as children often know and love this story from a very young age. Start by reading the fairy tale together. If you don't have this one in your collection here is a lovely version (<http://amzn.to/1mmBPb5>) for little ones. Once you have read the story,

Educator and family responses

- I am using a bigger range of picture books confidently
- 95% of respondents found the parent pack extremely or very easy to use and understand
- Facebook information seen as useful
- "I'm a teacher, it is good to remind people to read. It sounds silly to say but life gets in the way. It's good to remind people to sit and read to their children."
- Close to 50% of respondents had borrowed 100 Stories picture books from their library

The books transported her into new worlds and introduced her to amazing people who lived exciting lives. She went on olden-day sailing ships with Joseph Conrad. She went to Africa with Ernest Hemingway and to India with Rudyard Kipling. She travelled all over the world while sitting in her little room in an English village.

Five facts about reading:

rumpusantoso:

Fact 1: Reading can make you a better conversationalist.

Fact 2: Neighbours will never complain that your book is too loud.

Fact 3: Knowledge by osmosis has not yet been perfected. You'd better read.

Fact 4: Books have stopped bullets - reading might save your life.

Fact 5: Dinosaurs didn't read. Look what happened to them.
